Pastor Fremer's Message

The devil's got you beat.

He really does. The Bible describes the devil as a roaring lion (1 Peter 5:8), a great red dragon (Rev. 12), and a shining star (Isaiah 14, though this one is argued about admittedly). The legends say that the devil was God's chief angel, his second-in-command, and that he chose to rebel against God out of envy. He was the most powerful angel God created. He knows you better than you know yourself. He sees all your weak points, every crack in your armor. The devil is a veteran of ten millennia of unholy war (at least) and has been tempting and tormenting human beings since the Garden of Eden. He commands innumerable demons all of which are smarter than you and stronger than you. You cannot fight him and you cannot stop him.

All of that is true. Absolutely none of it matters.

The devil is not God. He may be greater than you, but he is not greater than our Father in heaven. God is all-powerful, all-knowing, and all-present. Satan is none of these. The devil is horribly outmatched and doesn't even know it. His pride refuses to let him admit it. He doesn't control your destiny or your fate. He doesn't have any choice in what happens or how it happens. Everything he tries to accomplish, God undermines and manipulates to work out for good. Everything he tries to corrupt and twist, God heals. To the point: The devil is not in charge.

The Bible tells us that Satan's fate is sealed. At the end of time, he will be hurled into the lake of fire forever. Until then, he torments us and tempts us. Both torment and temptation are not unimportant, but they accomplish nothing. The devil's specialty is noise. A roaring lion is only as scary as we let it be. A roaring lion is threatening to eat you, but if the devil is a roaring lion, he is a lion behind a cage. He can't eat you. He can't change you. All he can do is roar. The word Satan means "accuser." The devil talks, roars, whispers, tempts, but he doesn't actually do or accomplish anything. It's all noise. Why? Because you belong to Christ. Romans tell us that neither angels nor demons nor powers nor anything else can separate us from the love of Christ. No devil can change that. He can tempt you, make sin look irresistible and great. He can torment you, telling you that you're worthless and stupid, that the world is doomed, that nothing you do matters.

It's all noise. It's all lies.

What matters is who God has made you. What matters is the fate that God has already written for you. God knows all the future, both of you, your loved ones, and this world. God knows that the devil scares you, that all the evil of the world makes you sad and angry. He knows how the devil meets his end. So do you. The world's evil is overwhelming at times. There's too much bad, the devil is too strong, it feels like the bad guys already won when we didn't even know we were fighting a war. It feels like God doesn't do enough, like it just keeps getting worse.

More noise. You belong to God. He knows your fate. You are His chosen people and dearly loved by Him. In the end, the devil is nothing but a snake. A snake that Christ has crushed under his heel. God crushed the serpent to save you. You don't have to listen to the devil's noise anymore.

PRAYER CHAIN - God commands and invites believers in Jesus Christ to pray. "Be joyful always; pray continually; give thanks in all circumstances, for this is God's will for you in Jesus Christ." - 1Thess. 5:16-18
Are you feeling down, hurt, sick, anxious? Does someone you know need help?

We can bring our joys, sadness, requests, needs, praise, and thanks to God with confidence that He hears us and answers us for Jesus' sake. THERE IS POWER IN PRAYER.

If you have a prayer request, please send it to me at prayer.chain4u@yahoo.com or barbjwolf@yahoo.com.
you can also call the office, and Toni will forward it to me.

"Call upon Me in the day of trouble; I will deliver you, and you shall glorify me."

Psalms 50:15

THANKYOU

God

So how is your summer going? Hard to believe that August is upon us and our summer vacations are coming to a close. We have county fairs to look forward too as part of our late summer events and schools will be starting up towards the end of the month. Then for a lot of us we get back into our fall routines, as we do here at Trinity. Two Sunday morning services with Sunday school and bible study wedged in between.

I pray that all of us here at Trinity are doing well and are continuing to center our lives and character around that of Jesus Christ. I pray that we do not get caught up in the ways of the world. Our careers, our families, hobbies and money are all wonderful gifts and blessings from our Lord, but should not become the center of our lives.

God is far more interested in what you are than what you do. We should remember that when we die we will take our character into eternity not our career. Peter said: Don't lose a minute in building what you've been given, complimenting your basic faith with good character, spiritual understanding, alert discipline, passionate patience, reverent wonder, warm friendliness and generous love.

We at Trinity are so blessed to be part of such a Christian family. We all go through our trials and may get discouraged and feel like giving up or even stumble. But it's only by the grace of God, and the blood of Jesus Christ that we as sinners are saved.

May we all continue to grow in our faith and love for each other, and love for our Lord. For it takes a lifetime to build Christ like character.
