The Lord Be With You

If you think back to our worship services, there is an oddly specific phrase that happens over and over again. “The Lord be with you.” Usually the congregation responds “And also with you.” If you grew up with the old red hymnal like me, you want to say “And with thy spirit.” Why do we say this? Why so many times?

Our worship service is divided into parts for organization. The first part is the Service of the Word. Just like it says on the tin, the point of this part, the most important bit, is the reading of the Word of God. Not the sermon. The public, out loud, reading of the Scriptures. Without that, you do not have church. The sermon is supposed to go along with that, sure, but the indispensable part is the reading of the Scriptures. What does this start with? “The Lord Be With You.”

The second part is the Service of the Sacrament. The center of this is the Lord's Supper as you'd expect. What does this start with? “The Lord be with you.” You see? “The Lord be with you” is like turning the page on the book, it's like a verbal indicator that we've wrapped up one bit and are moving onto the next. It happens one more time, too, in Divine Service 3, before the Benediction. This is to highlight the importance of the blessings you've received.

Why this phrase though? It has its roots in our history. In ancient times, before church was even legal to do in the Roman Empire, there were many churches and few pastors. One pastor would serve a bunch of different churches, usually in the same city. They would all worship on Sunday, so the pastor would spend all Sunday walking, and because there were no phones, they had no idea when the pastor would arrive. So church would start, whether the pastor was there or not, the hymns would be sung and other parts of the worship service would be done, but then when the pastor arrived, he would get The Service of the Word started. He would start with the words, “The Lord be with you.” It was a way for everyone to get on the same page. When the pastor said those words, that signaled to everyone that his parts of the worship service were about to start.

We keep these things to keep in touch with our history, sure, but we also keep them to remind ourselves of where we are in worship. “For God is not a God of confusion, but of peace.” God tells us to organize our worship accordingly, so.... the Lord be with you!

-Pastor Fremer

Elder's Corner

Amazingly it's already September and Labor Day has arrived. The county fair is upon us, reminding us that it's harvest time. Time for the farmers and the gardeners to harvest their crops. When we think of harvesting, ponder the idea of harvesting for Christ. As we go through our daily lives, we have numerous opportunities to speak out for the furthering of Christ's kingdom.

How many times do we hold back? Myself included. There are times when I use Jesus in my conversations when it feels as if people are ready to hear about and talk about Him. But why wait? Remember what He did on the cross for us and don't be timid. As stated in Luke 10:2: He told them, "The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field."

I pray Lord that You would grant us the strength to be workers in your harvest field. Help us to speak of the good news of Your salvation and not be timid about it. Amen.

We are blessed to welcome four new preschoolers this year: Kori, Magnolia, Murphy, and Natalia! We will also have an additional teacher this year. Dori Matte will be joining Trinity Preschool as a new teacher this fall. She will be teaching with Marilyn Heinemann for the 2023/2024 school year. Dori has a Bachelor's Degree from UW-Milwaukee in Therapeutic Recreation and was a Certified Recreation Therapist. She worked in Milwaukee for 2 years as a program director in an Alzheimer's unit and then was a Recreation Therapist for 15 years at St. Nicholas Hospital.

A Prayer for the First Day of School

Dear Lord,

Open my eyes to see new friends.

Open my ears to hear my teacher.

Open my mind to learn new things.

Open my hands to help others.

Open my mouth to speak kind words.

Open my heart to love like You.

I know You are always with me when I'm at school!

In Jesus' name, Amen!

Christopher Gardens Outdoor Service with Luther Memorial and Grace Haven

All are invited to Christopher Gardens on Sunday, September 17th at 10am. Parking is on the grass lot by the vineyard. The address is W580 Garton Road (take the road until you see the vineyard entrance on your right). Ushers will be available to lead people to the grass worship pavilion (This will be a beautiful Lutheran Service without communion). There will be an opportunity to leave an offering for your congregation, but also a special door offering for Meals on Wheels. A 40x60 tent is available for those who need shade.

Note, this is a bring your own lawn chair/blanket event.

Golf carts driven by staff will help those in need. A local physician will also be on site during worship. After the service, all are welcome to light refreshments and self-guided tours of the gardens until late afternoon. Feel free to invite friends and family. Pastor Barkley will be preaching and Pastor Fremer will be the liturgist.

(If rain is predicted, we will notify by Saturday, September 16th and have a Rain Date Service on September 24th at the Gardens.)
